Annexation of San Domingo.

The Washington correspondents have had much to say of the difficulty between the President and Cabinet and Hon. Chas. Sumner, in relation to our latest scheme of territorial annexation—the acquisition of the Island of San Domingo. As Mr. Sumner differs widely from the administration in his views on the subject, we give a few of his ideas, taken from a speech in the Senate a few days since, in which he likens the acquisition to Abash's forcible occupation of Naboth's vineyard, and presents the important point of a treaty between Hayti and Domingo, to the effect that no part of the island can be alienated by either of the two governments, and under which the government of Hayti in 1868 protested against the sale of the Bay of Santamaria to the United States. On this point Mr. Sumner urges that annexation would be a menace against the independence of the Haytian republic and a measure against which he protests in the name of Justice, outraged by violence in the name of Humanity; indeed, in the name of the weak trodden down; in the name of Peasant, and in the name of the African race, whose first effort at Independence is rudely assailed. Senator Sumner supports his protest, by the consideration that the island of San Domingo, situated in tropical waters and occupied by another race, of another color, never can become a permanent possession of the United States. You may seize it by force of arms or by diplomacy, where a naval squadron does more than the minister; but the enforced jurisdiction cannot endure. Already by a higher statute is that island set apart to the colored race. It is theirs by right of possession; by their sweat and blood mingling with the soil; by tropical position; by its beauty and by unalterable laws of climate. Such is the ordinance of nature, which I am not the first to recognize. San Domingo is the earliest of that independent group destined to occupy the Caribbean sea, toward which our duty is, like the Ten Commandments—Kindness, beneficence, assistance, aid, help, protection, all that is implied in good neighborhood, these we must give; but, beautifully; but their independence is as precious to them as is ours to us, and it is placed under the safeguard of natural laws which we cannot violate with impunity.

Long ago it was evident that the great Republic might fitly extend the shelter of its protection to the Governments formed in these tropical islands, dealing with them graciously, generously, and in a Christian spirit—helping them in their weakness, encouraging them in their trials, and being to them always a friend; but we take counsel of our supposed interests rather than theirs, when we seek to remove them from the sphere in which they have been placed by Providence.

Allusion is made in the address to the commencement of the negotiations for annexation, which it is said began with a Dominican political jockey, who, with two other unofficial persons, seduced into their firm a young officer of ours, who entitled himself "aid-de-camp to the President of the United States." Together they got up what was called a protocol, in which the young officer entitling himself aid-de-camp to the President proceeds to promise for his latter that he shall privately use all his influence in order that the idea of annexing the Dominican republic to the United States may acquire such a degree of popularity among members of Congress as will be necessary for its accomplishment, and when he came to Washington, instead of being called to account for this unorthodox transaction, he was sent back to negotiate a treaty. There are two chieftains in Domingo—one the political jockey with whom our Government is united and is now sustained in power by our naval force, and the other Cabral, who represents the people of his country, besides bearing his head. There is between them discord; they differ from each other—one seeking unity for these two Governments, the other seeking to sell his country for price. But, whatever may be the sentiment of the people, whether Baez and Cabral agree or disagree, Baez has been, and is now, maintained in power by the naval force of the United States, as evident from there being three ships of our navy occupying the harbors of the island, and the question is asked, if force were not to be employed, why are these ships stationed there?

The French Peasant Fund.

Those disposed to aid the Fund in behalf of the distressed peasantry of Alsace and Lorraine, may do so to the extent that the whole amount subscribed will be applied at once to the relief of the most pressing cases. Small subscriptions to the "French Peasant's" Seed Corn Fund are also desired. Any contributions sent to Miss CAROLINE WESTON, Weymouth, Mass., or to Miss MARY GRAY CHAPMAN, 32 Clancy street, Boston, will be gratefully received and immediately forwarded.

W. E. Wright has been appointed postmaster at South Weymouth, in place of E. S. Wright, deceased.

South Weymouth Savings Bank.

At the Annual meeting of the South Weymouth Savings Bank Corporation held Jan. 2, the following persons were chosen officers for the ensuing year:—Albert Tirrell, President; Oran White, Vice President; Albert Tirrell, Oran White, John S. Cobb, Jacob Louis, Thomas J. Nash, Joseph Dyer, Eric T. Joy, Elton Sherman, James L. Bates, D. S. Murray, C. C. Tower, Jason Holbrook, William Dyer, and B. F. White, Trustees.

Present.

In an account of the dedication of the M. E. Church, at East Weymouth, was made of the reading of a letter from Mr. Alvah Raymond, Jr., accompanying the presentation of a fine clock to the Society, and which now graces the inner walls of the new edifice.

Boston Correspondence.

Rev. Dr. Coker of London, Secretary both of the Society for Systematic Evangelism, and the Moral Science Association, in England, is now in Boston, and at a breakfast given at the Worcester House, on Tuesday morning, through the munificence of Hon. Jacob Sleeper and Hon. E. S. Tobe, at which near a hundred gentlemen sat down, Dr. Coker unfolded his idea of a Moral Science Association and his success in forming one in Boston. His great object is to unite all Christians more closely in Christian work, but especially in giving of their means according to the Lord's command, claiming that giving is an act of "understanding," and should be spontaneous as prayer and praise, and that we have a trace in the New Testament of agents asking for money; it was pointed out that the Association makes "all Christians a hero," and Mr. Vanderbilt became the idol and hero of the hour.

The first act in this great drama was the doubling, in 1867, of the Capital Stock, then $7,000,000, of the Hudson River Railroad. Upon this Stock only 50 per cent, was called up; the modest sum of $3,500,000. Taught by such instruction, Mr. Vanderbilt, in 1868, declared a Scip dividend of 80 per cent, upon the Share Capital of the Central Railroad, then $28,750,000. This dividend produced $23,036,000! But these vast sums by no means satisfied the man of this financial giant. He contrived the union of the two Roads, and made the pretext for another Stock dividend of 27 per cent, on the Central, which procured a small addition thereto, of enlarged earnings, a sum of $3,524,000. At the same time a dividend was declared upon the Share Capital increased at $16,010,800, of the Hudson River. This dividend produced the sum of $13,623,800. The following is a tabulated statement of the several wadings:

1st watering of Hudson River, $8,500,000; 1st watering of New York Central, 23,036,000; 2d, 26,536,000; 2d watering of Hudson River, 13,623,800; 2d watering of New York Central, 8,524,400; 2d, 22,148,200. Grand total, 48,634,200.

The present Share Capital of the Consolidated Roads, including the Scip Dividends, is $90,000,000. The waterings of Mr. VANDERBILT, consequently, exceed the Capital actually paid in, by $7,368,400! The distance from New York to Buffalo, by the line of the New York Central and the Hudson River Railroad is 442 miles. Mr. VANDERBILT's waterings consequently equal $110,415 per mile for the whole length of the road.

A beautiful supper in the upper hall was usually attended to at every Sabbath, but the pastor said he had understood that a change in the services on the Sabbath was talked of, that the next year.

The pastor said he had better not be rung at nine o'clock in the morning, that the sweet repose of the sleepy might not be disturbed, and they be better able to attend church in the afternoon. The pastor closed his sermon by giving his people good and excellent advice, pointing to them the way in which they should resolve to go in the future; that all quarrels and contentions and bitter feelings be overthrown and all begin on this New Year by striving to make each other happy, that may all enjoy a pleasant and a happy New Year.

Miss Lizzie A. Torrey, of Old Spain gave a large and fashionable Webster Hall, on Monday evening, of last week, it being her eighteenth birthday. Raymond & Burrell's Band played greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion, and to its music the company whirled in the many dances until 11 o'clock. Raymond & Burrell's Band played greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion, and to its music the company whirled in the many dances until 11 o'clock. A beautiful supper in the upper hall was usually attended to at every Sabbath, but the pastor said he had better not be rung at nine o'clock in the morning, that the sweet repose of the sleepy might not be disturbed, and they be better able to attend church in the afternoon. The pastor closed his sermon by giving his people good and excellent advice, pointing to them the way in which they should resolve to go in the future; that all quarrels and contentions and bitter feelings be overthrown and all begin on this New Year by striving to make each other happy, that may all enjoy a pleasant and a happy New Year.

SWEET BREADS make a nice relish for either tea or breakfast. They must be first made in a pan with a little water, then dried, and the string parts removed. Take them out and pour them in cold water five or ten minutes. Drain them in a towel, dip in egg and bread or cracked crumbs, and fry in butter a light brown. When they are done, if white, add a dash of nutmeg, a little cream, salt, and pepper, and a very little chopped parsley; sprinkle in a little flour, let it boil up, and pour over the little flour.

MERINGUE FOR DESSERT.—Make a rich cake up as you would for jelly. Bake in jelly cake pans, and when baked, turn out, and starch of a pint of water, one tablespoonful of corn starch, a piece of butter the size of a walnut, lemon enough to make it highly flavored, and sugar to taste. Keep it hot, and as soon as the cake comes out of the oven remove from the pans, spread on thick layers of the hot meringue on top, and so alternating until the cake is full. It must not be allowed to cool at all, or the cake will not absorb the starch, and it will not be a meringue. When cold, ice cream, ordinary cake, or any cake you do not mind, and brown in the stove very slightly. It will keep very nicely for two weeks, and should not be fed until wanted.

SALT FOR SWINE.—Swine are such greedy feeders that not a few farmers pay very little attention to their feeding. The swill-barrel is often very little better than a sink, and the poor hogs are expected to eat all day and even night which is referred by the other animals human and brute alike. This short-sighted treatment, however, works out a cure, or punishment rather, for swine thus treated make poor pork, and often die before killing-time, and when parturient, about feeding their young to supply them with salt, as they do other animals. They require to be salted, however, just as much as cattle, horses, or sheep, and suffer as much when neglected as any of these animals. If they are not regularly salted, there should be a trough or box in the stall in which salt may be deposited regularly, for the use of the animals. Salting the food judiciously would be much the best way.

ERIZOTIC ARTHITIS, the disease which is causing so much distress among the cows of New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut, and Canada, according to Professor Dow, is a sort of cramp fever, the symptoms being a hot mouth, costiveness, lameness, and tightness of the skin. These symptoms are followed by ulcers, which are likely, although rare, to affect every joint.

Philadelphia consumes 2,000,000 tons of coal annually, and her demand constantly increases.

The Richmond papers say that all the time bill ratifying the vote of the Roman people for annexation to Italy has passed the Italian Chamber of Deputies by a vote of 239 to 20.

Three citizens have to provide German officers held upon them with four meals a day, and two bottles of good wine and five cigars each.

Two leading news companies of the United States, do a business in selling newspapers and monthly magazines, of over eight millions of dollars per annum.

Iris said that the Commune of Lyons has sent an address to the French government insisting upon fewer proclamations of martial law.

In 1860 there were 39 guns, and now performing duty in Europe as the flagship of our pigmy squadron. She is of 3,173 tons burthen, and about the same class of vessel as the Colorado, Minnesota, and Oregon, 1600 tons, 89 marines, 90 seamen, 134 ordinary seamen, 200 landmen and boys, and about 40 in the engineers' department doing duty as firemen and coal heavers, making a total of 652 souls on board. She cost about $32,000,000, and has always attracted attention in admiring in every port she has visited on the other side of the water.

Below is a calculation of what it costs to keep her on duty, or, in naval parlance, "in commission?"

A Prussian Outrage.

English papers are considerably exercised over a Prussian outrage, described as follows: "Six Englishmen, who were lately in Berlin, during a small visit, situated on the Seine, were fired upon by the Prussian troops, and the crew being unable to offer a formidable or prolonged resistance, were at last compelled to surrender."

The Prussians then caused the vessel after which they proceeded to manacle the crew, and then turned the ship out into the sea.

This was seized by the Prussians, and the crew being unable to offer a formidable or prolonged resistance, were at last compelled to surrender.

The Prussians then caused the vessel after which they proceeded to manacle the crew, and then turned the ship out into the sea.

This was seized by the Prussians, and the crew being unable to offer a formidable or prolonged resistance, were at last compelled to surrender.

This outrage was committed, notwithstanding the fact that these vessels had discharged their cargoes, consisting of coal, under the protection of Prussian permits.

CONSOLATION.—In New York we find the following statement: "The man as the 'lump' was treated, giving it part to the soil that is in immediate contact with it, the rest while going into the atmosphere, so that these manure heaps are but bigger 'lumps,' enriching too much what they come in contact with, showing lodged grain or lodged grass, and depriving it of its strength, and deprived of its strength, goes to the rest of the soil, but to do it little good."

The way is, to spread as wide, and draw as it is made, if possible. This is the way to get its strength. If the fluid parts in the soil, then the manure will be absorbed, the full strength will thus be obtained. Close to the soil, a fine pulverized condition the ground will hold what the atmosphere otherwise—in lumps—might get. The rains will ram it into the soil; and in the spring they will be in condition. With the heaves left until the spring, the ground only in immediate contact with the manure will be benefited, the rest of the land receiving nothing during the winter. In the spring the heaves will be frozen; then will be difficulty of removing them easily, and in a plow of way we never like to do them. The other land manure spread in the fall—works up mellow, and black, and rich, all of it; here you get the benefit; in the other case you certainly do not." Rural New Yorker.

TO PHYSICIANS.

1833.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1868.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are, BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebes extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu as prepared by Druggists is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my present predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as it is made by Druggists, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation.

With a feeling of profound confidence, I am, very respectfully,

H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 19 years' experience.

PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15th, 1868

F COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU
component parts are BUCHU, BEERS, JUNIPER BERRIES, REPARATION.—Buchu, in decorations, by distillation, to form a fine extracted by displacement and distilled from Juniper Berries; very sweet, and a small proportion more palatable than any now in use.

pared by Druggists, is of a dark plant that emits its fragrance, and fame destroys this (its active parts are the color of ingredients, and my name is not mentioned),
and of the other ingredients—newest formulation; upon investigation it will be found not to be a Tincture, armaceous, nor is it a Syrup—
can be used in cases where fever exist. In this, you have the the ingredients and the mode o
you will favor it with a trial inspection it will meet with you
of profound confidence,
very respectfully,
